

WELCOME TO THE 5th NEWSLETTER OF IcARUS!

With this issue, we celebrate reaching the mid-point of the four-year project, and the results could not have been more promising!

The mid-term progress report has been approved, and the partnership got the Green Light from the EU commission to continue towards building the future of Urban Security using Innovative Approaches.

SEE OUR NEW DELIVERABLES AND STAY UP TO DATE:

State of the Art Review and Key Lessons

The IcARUS State of the Art Review has now been completed, representing an extensive understanding of the accumulated knowledge base on European urban security over the past 30 years, highlighting key lessons, trends and issues and providing an assessment of the research literature.

Read full article HERE

Authors: Adam Crawford, Susan Donkin, Christine A Weirich (University of Leeds)

FIND OUT MORE ABOUT WHAT WE'VE BEEN UP TO:

IcARUS mid-term conference: harnessing 35 years of local policies and practices to design innovative solutions

How can European local/regional authorities, practitioners, and academics better work together to harness the wealth of knowledge acquired over three decades of local urban security policies and make our cities safer for all? This was the theme of the IcARUS mid-term conference, which gathered more than 80 participants – local elected officials, security practitioners, academics, and civil society organizations.

Read full article HERE

Authors: EFUS

INNOVATION MEETS IDEATION: The IcARUS Design Thinking workshops gathered a variety of stakeholders to develop innovative solutions that tackle urban security challenges

The IcARUS partners have been working over the past few months on building the foundations for designing and developing the project's tools and practices. The six IcARUS partner cities laid the groundwork for the co-construction of urban security policies by launching the first Design Thinking Workshops with local stakeholders to design innovative solutions to their urban security issues.

Read full article HERE

Authors: Alexandros Koukouvini & Pilar De La Torre (LOBA & EFUS)

Lisbon IcARUS Local Workshop – “Help create innovative solutions for your city!”

The IcARUS Local Workshop brought together partners from the Community Policing in Lisbon, to reflect on solutions that promote safety behaviors among youngsters. The Community Policing model in Lisbon, developed by the Lisbon Municipal Police with local partners, aims to promote preventive strategies that contribute to the improvement of safety and well-being in the community.

Read full article HERE

Author: Mónica Diniz (Lisbon Municipal Police)

www.icarus-innovation.eu

This project has received funding from the European Union's Horizon 2020 research and innovation programme under grant agreement No 882749

